

ABI Ireland to showcase work of Munster artists

5th March 2010: Acquired Brain Injury Ireland (ABI Ireland) will mark Brain Awareness Week 2010 by launching its first Art & Media Exhibition 'Capturing the Now' in Castleisland, Co Kerry. MEP Mr. Sean Kelly will officially launch the exhibition at 2pm next Friday 12th March at The Kerry Library in Castleisland.

The exhibition will showcase the talent and creativity of a group of men and women with acquired brain injury from the Munster region. The exhibition will take place from 12th March to 19th March 2010.

Lucia Power, Regional Manager with ABI Ireland said, "We are delighted to be marking Brain Awareness Week 2010 by launching our very first Art Exhibition. The work of these men and women with ABI tells its own story and the exhibition is a platform to display their work which will no doubt prove inspirational to others with ABI and to the wider community."

Every year in Ireland over 10,000 people are directly affected by ABI and ABI Ireland is committed to making a difference to their lives and to the families who struggle to support them. Established in 2000, ABI Ireland provides support and services to people with brain injury throughout Ireland. Brain Awareness Week takes place from 8th March – 14th March 2010.
